

April 24–26, 2023

Zwolle, the Netherlands

‘How to practice United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG’s) in the classroom’

What is the student conference ‘Teacher in Europe’?

An international student conference for future teachers primary and secondary education from all over Europe. Theme: “How to practice United Nations Sustainable Development Goals \(SDG's\) in the classroom. There will be 2 keynotes and several workshops on this theme.

During the conference students follow workshops but are also working in an international group of 5 or 6 students from various nationalities. You will be making a lesson series that you may use as teacher (or intern) in your classroom. All teams will be coached by one of the teachers. The project plan for the lesson series will be presented to other groups for peer review.

Tuesday evening there will be a programme in Zwolle where you can enjoy the city with the other students, get a taste of Dutch culture and share it with students from various nationalities.

For whom? Students from primary and secondary teacher training programs from the Netherlands and abroad.

Costs?

Participation: € 90,- (catering included)

(for students from KPZ, Viaa and HU participation is free)

Meals and possible overnight stay

For students who come from far, overnight accommodation can be arranged in the Summercamp in Heino (Wednesday night and Thursday night). Bus transport to and from the Summercamp to the conference venue will be arranged. If you want to make use of this, you must sign up for the accommodation in the registration form.

What do you get?

- Three days full of lectures and workshops from experts in the field of internationalisation.
- Guidance of special coaches for setting up collaborative projects.
- Contact with fellow students from various European countries.
- A certificate of participation. You can use this as an extra to your diploma, it looks good on your CV and you can demonstrate that you have an affinity with internationalization when applying for a job.
